

Here i go again - Casting Crowns

Father, hear my prayer, I need the perfect words words that he will hear, and know they're straight from you I don't know what to say, I only know it hurts to see my only friend, slowly fade away

So maybe this time, I'll speak the words of life with your fire in my eyes but that old familiar fear, is tearing at my words what am I so afraid of?

here I go again, talkin' 'bout the rain and mullin' over things, that won't live past today and as I dance around the truth, time is not his friend this might be my last chance to tell him, that you love him here I go again
here I go again

Lord, you love him so, you gave your only son if he would just believe; he would never die how then will he know, if he has never heard Lord he has never seen, mirrored in my life so maybe this time, I'll speak the words of life
but that old familiar fear, is tearing at my words
what am I so afraid of?

here I go again, talking about the rain and mulling over things, that won't live past today
and as I dance around the truth, time is not his friend
this might be my last chance to tell him, that you love him
here I go again
here I go, here I go

so maybe this time, I'll speak the words of life with your fire in my eyes, but that old familiar fear is tearing at my words what am I so afraid of

and as I dance around the truth, time is not his friend
this might be my last chance to tell him, that you love him
